

Quiz Competition – Medicos' Week 2014

Terms of Reference

Introduction

This Quiz competition is designed to provide an opportunity to the students to show their interest and standards in General Knowledge.

Participation

- Each batch shall be represented by a group of students from their respective batches
- Each group shall comprise four students.
- There shall be no conditions regarding the sex of the participants.
- Each group shall select their leader on their own before the commencement of the competition.
- None of the participants shall be replaced once the competition is started.

Structure of the competition

- This Quiz competition shall have ten rounds.
- First 09 rounds shall feature questions from a spectrum of subjects such as Science and Technology, History, Religion, Sports and games, Current affairs, etc. Questions shall be displayed on the screen and the Quiz Master shall read out the questions once.
- The last round shall feature questions based on the images or video clips displayed on the screen.
- Each round shall have two questions per group making a total of eight questions.

Selection of questions

- Leader of each group shall be required to take a paper scroll randomly from a container.
- Each group shall get the question based on the number in the paper scroll which the leader takes.

Point scheme

- Point scheme shall be as follow
 - ❖ If a question is answered in first instance the group will be awarded 10 points
 - ❖ If a question is answered in second attempt the group will be awarded 05 points
 - ❖ If a question is answered in third attempt the group will be awarded 03 points
- Only three attempts will be given for a question in total.
- If more than one group provides the correct answer, the points shall be divided equally among them.

Method of answering

- Questions shall be directed towards the group not towards individual.
- Anyone from the particular group to which the question belongs to, can answer.
- The question should be answered within 30 seconds in first instance.
- If the person fails to answer correctly in the first instance or within 30 seconds, then any other from the same group can answer and this attempt shall be considered as the second attempt.
- The question should be answered within 10 seconds in second attempt.
- If the second attempt too fail to produce the correct answer or the time limit is breached, then the question shall become opened for other groups.
- Other groups should write the answer in a piece of paper and should submit to the Quiz Master within 10 seconds.
- This attempt will be counted as the third and last one.
- The group to which the question is originally belongs to, shall not take part in the third attempt.
- If the correct answer is still not provided by any groups, the Quiz Master shall declare the answer and none of the groups shall be offered points

Declaring the winner

- At the end of the ten rounds, total points of each group shall be declared by the Quiz Master and the group that scores highest points shall be declared as winners
- In case of two or more groups scoring same scores, then a tie-breaker shall be used to decide the places

Note: The verdict of the Quiz Master is the final one. The Quiz Master bears full rights and powers regarding the rules and all the aspects of the competition.

Medicos' week - 2014